DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "closure member (46) serving to come into place behind said at least one dispensing orifice (22)" and "the cam piece move in rotation and transversely relative to the cam element" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 7, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 7, the Applicant fails to properly disclose the rotational movement of the cam piece 42 relatively to the cam element 37. In claim 10, line 2, "the closure member" lacks antecedent basis.
4. For the purpose of this Office action, the claims will be examined as best understood by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mankouski as best understood by the Examiner.

Mankouski discloses a fluid dispenser comprising: a fluid reservoir 19, at least one dispensing orifice 17, a fluid feed duct 45, a valve 31/41, an actuating means 24, wherein the actuating means 24 moves transversely to the valve axis 5-5, the actuating means also having a force transmitting means 29 and a closure member 41 selectively comes into place in front of orifice 17 (see figure 4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mankouski in view of Garcia et al.

Mankouski teaches all the limitations of the claims except for a vibratory plate and a piezoelectric element. However, Garcia et al. discloses a fluid dispensing device with a vibratory plate 61 with at least one dispensing orifice 62, and a piezoelectric element 63. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have provided the device of Mankouski with a vibratory plate and a piezoelectric element as suggested by Garcia et al. Doing so would provide a way to dispense fluid (column 1, lines 40+).

9. Claims 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Garcia et al. in view of Wakeman.

Garcia et al. teaches all the limitations of the claims except for a closure member that is selectively came into pace in front of the dispensing orifice. However, Wakeman discloses a fluid dispensing device with a closure plate 62 that is selectively came into pace in front of the dispensing orifice 64 (see figure 3). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have provided the device of Garcia et al. with a closure member that is selectively came into pace in front of the dispensing orifice as suggested by Wakeman. Doing so would provide a way for self-sealing a fluid dispenser (see column 1; line 10+).

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 12-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following patents are cited to show the art with respect to a fluid dispensing device: Griffiths, Lang, Martin et al., and Wang.
